What a fantastic turn out with nearly 50% of members present. Commodore Paul Hutton took members through an illustrated presentation of the many notable successes and improvements achieved in the previous year. These excellent results far exceeded the targets set just twelve months previously. Well done.

These impressive results so set the scene and inspired all members that the normally "tedious" section of debating submissions - there were 18 tabled - became alive and interesting as Paul guided the lively discussion to a position where all members felt that they could now vote with knowledge and understanding of all the pros and cons of each item. Significant contributors to the debate were Kit Whitehouse and Chas Kimber, both of whom had previously been Commodores of the Club, and both of whom held passionate thought out ideas for the future. Well done Kit and Chas for keeping all of us on our toes.

Finally to the election of Committee Officers. In most cases it was re-election and it was no surprise that these officers were voted in unanimously to great applause. The three members standing for election to the remaining posts were Christine Hall, John Morren and Tony Davenport.

Tony moves from Rear Commodore Sailing where for more than two years he has done a sterling job bringing structure and innovation to this very demanding post. Tony now becomes Vice Commodore. John, a keen sailor (and no mean cook) takes over as Rear Commodore Sailing. Chris takes over Social Secretary a daunting post previously held by Sue Scorer who had kept the Club happily engaged in a wide variety of events and "Do's par Excellence". Chris graciously acknowledged the tremendous work done by Sue admitting that she had a hard act to follow, but would try her very best to maintain the high standard of Social events enjoyed by all.

The AGM started on time - well done Everyone - and finished about the time expected (hoped?), leaving every member well satisfied, more knowledgeable about all aspects of the workings of this great Club and eagerly anticipating yet another fantastic year of Fun, Competition and Achievement.
